

MASTER OF ARTS IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Program Highlights

- Explores the changing meanings of America through interdisciplinary approaches to history, art, culture and politics
- 30-credit master's program with an optional 15-credit certificate
- Prepares students for careers in historical preservation, heritage tourism, museum studies, population studies, public service, education and more
- Network with dozens of regional historical and cultural institutions
- Benefits include improving professional qualifications, enhancing career development, professional practice through internships and independent study opportunities, and preparing for continuing education at the doctoral level through advanced courses and thesis option

Admissions Criteria

- Baccalaureate degree
- Minimum GPA of 3.0
- Complete an online application with the following:
 - $50 application fee
 - Graduate application essay
 - Three letters of recommendation
 - If cumulative GPA is below a 3.0, the GRE or MAT is required
 - Resume
 - Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended (including Stockton)

