"Throughout the pandemic Stockton’s administration, faculty and staff have worked diligently to provide a safe environment while continuing to serve our students as we work toward fully reopening in the fall. Our efforts will continue to be one of the most important steps. We all can take steps to keep ourselves and each other safe by getting vaccinated. It is the responsible thing to do. The American College Health Association has stated that comprehensive COVID19 vaccination is the most effective way to return to a safe, robust on-campus experience in fall 2021. The Trustees themselves have set the example by getting vaccinated. The COVID19 vaccine is now plentiful and available to everyone over the age of 16. This way, we can return safely in September and provide the college experience our students expect and deserve. Stockton would require that all students be vaccinated unless they have a medical or other approved exemption. Please know that details concerning all of this will be provided in the very near future and I ask that the Board of Trustees endorse this statement."

On behalf of the full board, Trustee Ciccone stated mandating vaccines for students this fall was endorsed.

President Kesselman and Kevin McHugh, Executive Director of Athletics, congratulated and acknowledged the Women’s Volleyball Team on their 14th NJAC win during the 2021 New Jersey Athletic Conference. Stockton University permits the use of service animals and emotional support animals to assist individuals with disabilities. An individual with a disability is an individual who meets one of the following criteria:

1. has a physical or mental impairment that limits one or more major life activities (examples are walking, speaking, seeing, hearing, and performing manual tasks);
2. has a record of such impairment; or
3. is regarded as having such an impairment.

Service Animals

Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) defines service animals as a dog or miniature horse that performs tasks specific to the individual’s disability. Animals other than dogs or miniature horses are not considered service animals.

Stockton University supports the use of service animals for an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability, which will promote the independence and safety of the individual.

A service dog is permitted in all University facilities and grounds where students, the community, and other participants in services, programs, or activities are permitted.

Stockton University will make reasonable modifications within its policies and procedures to permit an individual with a disability the use of a miniature horse if the miniature horse has been individually trained to perform the task or work for that individual.

Emotional Support Animals

Emotional support animals are not classified as service animals under the ADA because they have not been trained to perform a specific job or task.
Emotional support animal provides therapeutic benefit to an individual with a documented disability. Emotional support animals also may be referred to as assistance, therapy, or comfort animals, however they are not pets and they are not service animals.

Documentation

Documentation is required to support a request for a service animal or an emotional support animal as an accommodation. Individuals requesting service animals or emotional support animals to reside in on-campus dwellings or to accompany an individual in an on-campus office space will need to complete the documentation with either the Learning Access Program (students), or the Office of Diversity and Inclusion (employees).

Individuals who have service or emotional support animals are subject to all applicable licensing and vaccination rules and regulations, including local animal control or public health requirements.

The service or emotional support animal must be under the control of its handler at all times. Service animals and emotional support animals may be excluded from campus when the handler lacks control, the animal’s behavior poses a direct threat to the health and safety of others, or if the animal is not housebroken.

This is achieved by nurturing the students’ intellectual, social, and cultural outlook through a holistic approach in which the students’ involvement is of vital importance.

C. Campus Center

The Campus Center is always alive with numerous events, programs, and support services for the students of Stockton University. On top of these scheduled programs, they offer a first-rate, highly trained evening and weekend operations staff that is available to support student organization events in a variety of locations around the campus.

Information on the program and eligibility requirements are available on the Web page.

E. Event Services
The Office of Event Services is your one-stop for planning and scheduling events at Stockton. The Office serves as a liaison between the event planner and the offices that provide support services for events. The following offices comprise the Wellness Center:

- Counseling Center
J. The Office of Veteran Affairs

The Office of Veteran Affairs was created for the purposes of outreach to student veterans, active service members and reservists. A primary mission of the veteran’s program is to guide Stockton veterans and active service members to a variety of services that may benefit them and help them to connect with one another. With the anticipated return of our troops from overseas, Stockton will further the development of these programs and services.
