

Social Studies Strong: Using Technology and Literacy to Enhance Grades 6-12 Social Studies Instruction is a Free full-day workshop and we are making seats available to Stockton students. Pre-registration is required and I have included contact information below. Please consider taking advantage of this great opportunity. The workshop(s) will take place at the SRI&ETTC at 10 W. Jimmie Leeds Road. LUNCH WILL BE PROVIDED TOO!

Program Description: Engaging students while delivering instruction is crucial to implementing an effective social studies program. Join us for this full day workshop as we present a variety of teaching activities to add to your repertoire. We will offer strategies in developing content reading skills by using close reading. In addition, the integration of technology will be presented with a special emphasis on the iCivics program.

Although there is no cost to attend, pre-registration is required and seating is limited. For more information contact Darice Pico at darice.pico@stockton.edu

Dates: Friday February 5, 2016, March 11, March 16

Times: From: 9:00 to: 3:00

Cost: Free and open to the general public.

Instructor: Rebecca Garofalo

Location: SRI & ETTC - Computer Lab #127

10 West Jimmie Leeds Road, Galloway, NJ 08205.