For immediate release

March 4, 2024

Comments from Jane Bokunewicz, faculty director of the Lloyd D. Levenson Institute of Gaming, Hospitality and Tourism (LIGHT), Stockton University School of Business, on the retirement of David Rebuck, the former director of the state Division of Gaming Enforcement:

Director Rebuck is a man of great character who has ably led the DGE through important milestones in the past thirteen years. His integrity and investment in innovation contributed to the successful launch of both internet gaming and sports betting in the state - new gaming products that are changing the industry and keeping New Jersey at the top of the national market. Rebuck has always been generous with his time and expertise serving on numerous panels and public forums and sharing his knowledge with other gaming jurisdictions as they look to New Jersey for the highest standards in gaming regulation. The longest running gaming conference in the nation, the East Coast Gaming Congress, is honoring Director Rebuck with a lifetime achievement award this year - it could not be more deserved.

LIGHT thanks Director Rebuck for his many years of service and congratulates him on his retirement.
