Galloway, NJ – Stockton University's Dance program, housed in the School of Arts & Humanities, will host auditions for prospective students interested in majoring or minoring in Dance on Saturday, Feb. 27. Students are invited to audition by taking class and joining a discussion with faculty members and current students in the Dance program. Students are also invited to watch a performance of Stockton Dance Company's Spring Dance Concert, showcasing faculty and guest artist works.

The program will take place in the Stockton Dance Studio, room H-104, on the University's main Galloway campus.

"I'm always excited to see the students interested in attending Stockton to study dance," said Rain Ross, associate professor of Dance. "The auditions are my first glimpse into our next incoming class, and are a great opportunity for prospective dance majors and minors to engage with Dance faculty and current students."

The schedule is as follows:

2 p.m.	Registration
2:30 - 4 p.m.	Class (Ballet Barre and Modern Center)
4 - 4:30 p.m.	Q & A session with faculty and students
4:30 - 7:30 p.m.	Break
7:30 - 9:30 p.m.	Spring Dance Concert
