

STOCKTON COLLEGE

THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

Do You Have What it Takes to be a Teacher?

Find out at Stockton's Free Community Education Information Workshop

For Immediate Release

Wednesday, October 13, 2010

Contact:     Tim Kelly
                  Susan Allen
                  Office of Public Relations
                  Galloway Township, NJ 08240
                  Tim.Kelly@stockton.edu
                  (609) 652-4950

Galloway Township, NJ- The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey's School of Education is holding its first in a series of free Community Education Information Workshops on Tuesday, October 19, 2010 from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in F-Wing room F-111.

Nancy Fiedler, assistant director of Teacher Education, said, "The first step for all students seeking teacher certification at Stockton is to attend an Information Workshop that explains the requirements, policies and procedures of Stockton's Teacher Education program."

Nancy Fiedler will answer questions about the certification process to teach kindergarten through high school students and evaluate participants' college transcripts.

A complete schedule of workshops is available by visiting www.stockton.edu/educ and clicking on "Information Workshops." To register for a workshop, call 609-652-4688.

# #