Galloway, N.J. - Stockton University's Kramer Hall has invited Lily Doyle of Collingswood, N.J., known as "Undercover Artist," to instruct paint night on Thursday, Dec. 15 for Hammonton's Third Thursday, this month themed "Glitz, Glimmer, and Holiday Shimmer."

There will be two 45-minute sessions, one at 6 p.m. and one at 7 p.m. at this free event at Kramer Hall, 30 Front St., Hammonton, N.J. However, seating is limited so participants must RSVP to ginna.petrillo@stockton.edu or 609-626-3840 by Monday, Dec. 12 to reserve seats.

"Undercover Artist" offers art parties and events for social gatherings, fundraisers and team building. Doyle says, "Well, I was teaching art for 16 years in public school and I was very content and happy. However, some budget cuts came down around 2010 and I was out of work. I started my business out of necessity, but it has turned into a huge blessing in disguise."

She describes her painting events as part art, part entertainment, and part socializing. Doyle will be instructing a winter scene painting for this event. Light refreshments will be served.
