Galloway, NJ – Dr. Natacha Falcon, of Rothman Institute, will present an interactive seminar on spine conditions and the role of conservative care on Tuesday, April 12, 2016.

The lecture will look at the various conservative care approaches to treating back pain, neck pain and related spinal conditions utilizing non-surgical treatment options, such as physical therapy, medication and injections.

Falcon is a board-certified Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation physician. She was selected as one of South Jersey Magazine's Reader's Choice "Top Physicians" in 2012 and 2013. She has an interest in health and fitness and is a member of the National Physique Committee (NPC).

The free event, which provides lunch, will be held at the Manahawkin Instructional Site, located at 712 E. Bay Ave., at noon. Attendees are requested to RSVP by calling 609-626-3883.
