Margate, NJ- Temple Emeth Shalom in Margate will host the “Salute to Stockton” annual guest speakers program for the 14th consecutive year. This popular program features faculty and staff members from The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Rabbi Gordon Geller, an adjunct Stockton faculty member, said the “Salute to Stockton” talks are one of the highlights of the year at his congregation.

“What started out as an idea to bring Stockton’s wealth of talented speakers into our community has evolved into a much anticipated annual tradition,” Rabbi Geller said. “This lecture series is just one more example of the College's partnership with and outreach to our community.”

The series of talks will take place at the Temple in the sanctuary during Sabbath eve services starting at 7:30 p.m. The Temple is located at 8501 Ventnor Avenue in Margate (near the corner of Ventnor and Jerome Avenues). These events are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served after the service.

Following is the schedule of speakers:

Friday, July 8: Adjunct Professor, Elizabeth Shobe, “The Creative Brain.”

Friday, July 15: Director Carnegie Library Center, Alex Marino, “The Atlantic City Story”

Friday, July 29: Professor David Burdick, “Successful Aging”

Friday, August 5: Professor Lisa Cox, “Gab for Good”
