Galloway Township, NJ- The Stockton Center on Successful Aging (SCOSA) will host its annual Aging Successfully Festival on Tuesday, May 13, 2014 at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

"Staying Happy and Healthy at Home and in the Community" is the theme of this year's lineup of presentations, which will take place on the college's main Galloway campus in the Campus Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. A variety of topics will be covered including meditation, retirement planning, internet security, fitness, pain management, rheumatology, natural disaster preparation and Alzheimer's disease. Technology and craft-making demonstrations will also be offered throughout the day. Music will be provided by The Lyric Wind Quintet and members of the Stockton Faculty Band.

Dr. David Burdick, SCOSA director, said, "The festival has evolved to become SCOSA's signature event each year, drawing hundreds of guests. Thanks to our festival sponsors and exhibitors, we raise the revenues necessary to support and expand our extensive Older Adult Education program, which includes over 100 programs each year offered in Atlantic, Ocean and Cape May counties."

More than 30 local businesses and organizations will be present to share information, services and door prizes. Exhibitors include: AARP New Jersey, Alzheimer's Association Delaware Valley Chapter, the Arthritis Foundation's Eastern Pennsylvania Chapter, AtlantiCare, Bacharach Institute, Bayada Home Health Care, Caring, Inc., Costco, Depaul Healthcare
