Galloway, NJ – Stockton University will host “The Vagina Monologues” to benefit The Atlantic County Women’s Center. Performances will be held Friday, Feb. 26 in Stockton’s Campus Center Theater and Saturday, Feb. 27 in Alton Auditorium in A-wing, both located on the main Galloway campus. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and performances begin at 7 both nights.

General admission tickets are $20, students and seniors are $5, and are available at the door or online at www.acwc.org.

Eve Ensler's critically acclaimed episodic play, “The Vagina Monologues,” highlights the struggles modern women face across the globe. Each monologue deals with an aspect of the feminine experience, touching on matters such as sex, love, rape, menstruation and female genital mutilation. A recurring theme throughout the piece is the vagina as a tool of female empowerment and the ultimate embodiment of individuality.

All proceeds benefit The Women's Center, a non-profit agency which serves the families of Atlantic County, and the V-Day Worldwide Campaign to raise awareness about violence against women and girls.
