Galloway, NJ - The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey will host the popular G. Larry James Legacy Fund Bike Ride to support scholarships for deserving students. The event will take place rain or shine, Saturday, June 16. Riders are required to wear a helmet and should congregate at the Campus Center, 101 Vera King Farris Drive, in Galloway. Ride check-in and registration begins at 6:45 a.m. with the ride starting at 8 a.m.

Riders have distance options of 14, 32 or 62 (metric century) miles. The scenic, flat, out-and-back course has low vehicular traffic and passes through New Jersey's beautiful Pinelands National Reserve.

All proceeds from the event benefit scholarships. Those wishing to provide additional contributions may do so on-line by visiting www.stockton.edu and clicking on the "Give" option. All riders raising $150 or more in pledges by the day of the ride will receive a gift certificate to a local restaurant.

Registration fee is $30 for adults, $15 for minors with a registered adult until June 8; late registration is $40 for adults, $15 for minors with a registered adult. Lunch and a high-quality commemorative T-shirt included. T-shirt size is not guaranteed for late registrants.

Additional information is available by email to craig.stambaugh@stockton.edu or by visiting www.stockton.edu and clicking on the Legacy Fund Bike Ride icon.
