

GLOBALIZATION LECTURE SERIES

By introducing a variety of global topics across disciplines, the Globalization Lecture Series aims to support students to develop global awareness as well as broad and critical perspectives of the global world, developments, and opportunities. All students, faculty, staff, and community members are welcome.

Unpacking Putin's War: A Panel Discussion

Photo by Max Kukurudziak on Unspalsh

March 10, 2022
4:30PM

REGISTER HERE AT THIS LINK

This panel discussion will provide an overview of Russia's armed conflict in Ukraine, and the response of the international community.

Our interdisciplinary panel includes:

Dr. Mariam Majd, Assistant Professor of Economics

Dr. Raz Segal, Associate Professor of Holocaust and Genocide Studies

Dr. Tina Zappile, Associate Professor of Political Science

Dr. Lauren Balasco, Assistant Professor of Political Science (moderator)

Stockton is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

stockton.edu

For questions about accessibility or to request an accommodation, please contact the Office of Event Services and Campus Center Operations at 609.652.4878 or event.services@stockton.edu at least 5 business days in advance of your participation or visit.

Sponsored by the Global Studies Minor

Contact Dr. Lauren Balasco or
Dr. JY Zhou if you have any questions.